2021 Georgia General Assembly Legislative Days 8-12 Overview

Housekeeping

The Georgia General Assembly convened for the fourth week (Legislative Days 8-12). A flood of bills were introduced by legislators with a highlight on election reform and education. Governor Brian Kemp also gave two press conferences this week, detailing Georgia's COVID-19 vaccination process and unveiling his "Teacher Pipeline" legislative package. The legislators adjourned Thursday, February 4th, without passing an adjournment resolution positioning the legislature to pass an adjournment resolution on Monday, February 8th, the 13th Legislative Day.

General Bills

HB 80 (Speaker David Ralston) - This bill is the Supplemental "Baby" Budget Bill. This bill was passed by the Georgia House of Representatives on January 28th, and passed the Senate Appropriations Committee on Thursday, February 4th.

HB 112 (Rep. Trey Kelley) - This bill extends the applicability of the COVID-19 liability protections enacted last year for one year beginning on July 14, 2021. This bill was passed out of the Special Committee on Access to the Civil Justice System.

HB 270 (Rep. Barry Fleming) - This bill stops the issuing of absentee ballots within ten days of primary or election day, pushing it seven days earlier than the current deadline. This bill was passed by the Georgia House Special Committee on Election Integrity on Thursday, February 4th.

HB 86 (Rep. Ron Stephens) - This bill would create the Georgia Lottery Mobile Sports Wagering Integrity Act. This Act would allow for Georgians to participate in mobile sports betting regulated by the Georgia Lottery Commission.

Governor Kemp's Vaccine Press Conference

On February 3rd, Governor Kemp and Dr. Kathleen Toomey gave a COVID-19 vaccine update. Georgia receives roughly 120,000 vaccines per week. Over 250,000 vaccines have been administered between January 11th and February 3rd. As of February 3rd, CVS and Walgreens have completed their vaccine programs in 99.5% of Georgia's nursing homes and long-term care facilities. There are 40,000 vaccines that have been transferred from the nursing home program back into the general allotment. Through executive order, the Governor has expanded the list of people who can administer the vaccine to include dentists and pharmacists. The CDC has given new guidance that says the second dose of the vaccine can be administered up to 4 days early from the 3 or 4 week mark or up to 6 weeks for the second dose from the date of the first dose. Governor Kemp mentioned that it may be April before the Biden Administration will allocate more than 120,000 doses per week. With the possibility of a new vaccine from Johnson & Johnson, Governor Kemp and Dr. Toomey are hopeful that more doses may become available earlier than April. Governor Kemp's "Teacher Pipeline" Legislation

On Tuesday, February 2nd Governor Brian Kemp unveiled his "Teacher Pipeline" legislative package. With a focus on retaining Georgia educators, Governor Kemp is working to create a more focused curriculum for teacher cohorts focusing in Reading and English-Language Arts, creating a non-traditional teacher certification pathway for veterans, mentoring program for new teachers, and increased enrollment for teacher cohorts at historically black colleges and universities. Additionally, Governor Kemp also laid out policy encouraging the rehiring of retired teachers. On February 4th, the Senate assigned SB 88 (Sen. Russ Goodman) to the Senate Education and Youth Committee.

Multiple Election Bills Filed

A flurry of election bills were introduced by legislators this week focused on election security and reform. Both Democratic and Republican legislators have dropped bills that seek to make sweeping changes on Georgia's election system. While success of the Democratic sponsored bills looks grim, top leaders in the Republican Party have made election security reform a priority. Republican sponsors of the election bills dropped so far include Rules Chairman Senator Jeff Mullis (R-Chickamauga and Majority Caucus Vice-Chairman-Senator Larry Walker III (R-Perry),
